The Whaling Fleet—Loss of the North Star.

The whaling bark Thomas Pope, Capt. Fisher, arrived in San Francisco, Sept. 6, 35 days from Point Barrow, and furnishes the following memoranda: Sailed from San Francisco for the Arctic Ocean June 10th; passed through Ounemak Pass July 5th; passed East Cape July 14th; made Cape Serdse same day and arrived at Point Barrow July 26th, where we found the whaling fleet and were informed of the loss of the whaling steamer North Star. She was crushed in the ice July 8th, within 2½ miles of Cape Smith, after being blocked up in the ice for 13 days. All hands were saved, but the steamer was a total loss. Received freight from several whalers, and have on board 400 barrels whale oil, 7 casks ivory and 43,000 pounds whalebone. Visited Lient. Ray and party at the signal service station Aug. 2d, and left them in good health and spirits. At that time neither the supply schooner nor the revenue cutter had arrived. The season has been a remarkably mild one and the ocean very clear of ice, the thermometer ranging for several days from 60° to 74°, between Point Belcher and Point Barrow. On the passage down had a great deal of wet weather and very moderate winds. Have on board as passengers Captain Owen, the chief mate, two engineers and ten seamen from the North Star, and Captain Coleson and one seaman from the lost bark Sappho.

The following is the catch of the Arctic whaling fleet to August 2d: Bark Atlantic, 1 whale; Abraham Barker, 2; steam-whaler Belvidere, 3; bark Coral, 2; Fleetwing, 8; Gazelle, 1; Helen Mar, 1; John Howland, 5; Hunter, 8; Mable, 3; Mary and Susan, 5; North Light, 2; Young Phoenix, 2; Bounding Billow, 2; Frances Palmer, 1; Dawn, 2; Hidalg, 1; Sea Breeze, clean; steam-whaler Bowdead, clean; North Star, (lost), 3 whales. Have about 600 letters from the whaling fleet of the Arctic.

"Why, how odd you look with your hair parted in the middle!" exclaimed Mrs. Brown. "I used to part mine on the side," said Mrs. Jones. Then the conversation became general. Each lady had to tell how she parted her hair; all but little Edith's mother. She said nothing. Suddenly little Edith's voice was heard. Said she, "My mamma parts her hair on the toilet-table."
